Vikings at Charlevoix Friday Night

Split In Two Games Last Week

After splitting in last week's play, defeating the Roscommon Bucks but losing to the Gaylord Blue Devils, the Grayling Vikings are working to smooth their defense for a trip to Charlevoix this Friday.

Other conference action Friday night will find Boyne City at Gaylord, East Jordan at Harbor Springs and Pellston at Mancelona. Last week in loop play, Charlevoix downed Boyne City 59 to 40, Harbor Springs edged Pellston 73 to 69 and Mancelona eked out a 55 to 52 win over East Jordan.

Thursday night at the Grayling High gym in a makeup contest, the Vikings defeated the Roscommon Bucks 83 to 67. The Bucks jumped out to a 25 to 19 first period bulge but Grayling posted a 13 to 10 second frame to trail only 35 to 32 at intermission. The green and white edged closer with a 23 to 22 third period and wrapped it up going away with a big 28 to 10 fourth canto.

Grayling hit 37 field goals to the Bucks 29 and added 9 of 19 free throws. Roscommon hit 9 of 18 from the charity line. Each team was called for 14 fouls and Grayling lost the services of Pat Thompson via the foul route. LeRoy Neal paced the Viking attack with 26 points with Dale Slusser and Dave Nethers adding 16 each, Steve DuBois 14, Thompson 9 and Dane Madson 2. John Byelich with 20 was high for Roscommon with Jim Karjalainen and Mike Curtis adding 14 each.

Friday night, Grayling took off for a 22 to 15 first period edge. Grayling came back with a 18 to 16 second frame to trail 38 to 33 at half time. A 19 to 15 third frame brought the Blue Devils to one point from their hosts 53 to 52. A 16 to 11 final period brought victory to Grayling, 68 to 64.

Grayling out hit the Vikings from the field 25 to 24 and from the foul line 18 to 20 of 29. Grayling was called for 20 personal fouls, Gaylord for 19. Grayling lost LeRoy Neal on fouls and Pat Thompson on a knee injury which spelled the difference for the Vikings. Gaylord lost Steve Andrews on fouls.

Nethers with 14 and Steve DuBois and Pat Thompson with 13 each led the green and white attack. Neal and Slusser added 9 each, Madson 4 and Dave Bailey 2. Jack Noriot with 21 was tops for the Blue Devils but was aided by good searing balance with Andrews, Sam Morrow and Art Feder each adding 13.

The little Vikings followed suit to the varsity, whipping the Roscommon junior varsity 61 to 41 but then losing to the Little Blue Devils in an overtime contest 65 to 57.

U. S. Army Slated To Reduce National Guard Backlog

The Adjutant General of Michigan, Major General Clarence C. Schnipke, announced today that an estimated 400 Michigan National Guardsmen will be called up for six months active duty in January 1967. This is a sharp increase from call-up quotas for the last few months of 1966. For December the quota was 120, in November it was 60 and in October only 54 Guardsmen were called to serve their six month tour of duty.

According to General Schnipke, the monthly quotas following the big January call-up will remain high through May or June 1967. "We now have a backlog of 1,500 guardsmen awaiting their active duty assignment," said the Adjutant General. "By the middle of next year our backlog number should be minimal."

The increase in monthly quotas is the result of a recent Department of Defense announcement disclosing plans for providing active duty training for approximately 150,000 National Guardsmen and U. S. Army Reservists during the period January through June 1967.

The backlog nationwide currently stands at about 120,000, however the Army hopes to reduce this figure to 15,000 to 20,000 after next June. This acceleration of the Reserve Enlisted Personnel Training Program has been made possible by the lowering of regular army draft calls and the reduction in active army training requirements during the last half of fiscal year 1967.

General Schnipke said that Guardsmen from Selective Reserve Force and non-SRF units would be affected by the stepped up program. The Selective Reserve Force is the combat ready force that would back up the regular army should the need arise. The Adjutant General also revealed that the program would provide active duty training for National Guardsmen who enlist between now and June 1967 as well as reduce the backlog of those who enlisted previously.

General Schnipke urged Guardsmen and their civilian employers to begin making necessary arrangements immediately so that transition problems will be held to a minimum.

Beat Higher Food Costs

By Willard Bosserman
Co. Ext. Natural Resource Agent

Big city home makers took to the picket line to beat the higher food costs. Students of economics doubt that this will have much lasting effect on the price of food even though some chain stores have temporarily lowered prices. There are too many built in costs for the chain store to lower the price very much. Besides the price paid to the farmer for the raw product the cost of transporting, processing, whole sale and retail are included.

A way to beat some of the higher cost of food is given by Michigan University food specialist in three folders. They have prepared to help home makers cut food costs and still have a balanced diet. "Stretching Your Meat Dollars," is the title of the latest folder available at your Cooperative Extension Service office in Roscommon County Building. They can also be picked up in the Crawford County Court house in Grayling. "Food Shoppers Guide" and "Your Meal Money" are two others which will help the home maker save money at the grocery.

Post Office To Remain Open Next Two Saturdays

Grayling Postmaster James Post announced early this week that the Grayling Post Office would remain open the regular hours for the next two Saturdays. Instead of the usual Saturday closing at noon the windows will remain open for service from 8 a. m. until 4:30 p. m.

He also pointed out the city delivery patrons are responsible for keeping their sidewalks free of ice and snow in order that their mail may be delivered. He also pointed out that patrons on the Star Route and the Rural Route out of Grayling Post Office are responsible for snow removal on the approach to their mail boxes. This must be done so that it is not necessary for the mail carrier to leave his vehicle to deliver the mail.

The War On Poverty . . .

More than a generation ago, Franklin D. Roosevelt waged a vigorous and eloquent political campaign against poverty and social injustice. We have come a long way since the days when one third of the people were allegedly "ill-housed, ill-clad, ill-nourished." We are now enjoying the culmination of some 20 years of unexampled prosperity. In that 20 years, the standard of living of our people has risen to unprecedented heights, and the general level of well-being has risen spectacularly.

Since 1929, the proportion of families earning less than $2,000 (expressed in constant dollars of 1963 purchasing power) has fallen by 63 per cent, and the proportion earning less than $4,000 has fallen by 57 per cent. In its Annual Report for 1965, the President's Council of Economic Advisers predicts that if trends of the past 17 years continue, the average family income by the year 2000 will be about $18,000 in today's prices. And yet paradoxically, poverty is still a political and economic issue of first magnitude.

But, today's "war on poverty" appears to be a far cry from the era of Roosevelt and the Great Depression. When the current drive on poverty picked up momentum a year or so ago at a peak of prosperity, many wondered if it was more a matter of political strategy than concern for the economic well-being of the people.

Professor Margaret Reid, of the University of Chicago, expressed the feeling of the skeptics when she testified before the House Committee on Education and Labor in the following vein: "The overtones of much of the discussion (about poverty) and its sudden eruption create the impression that we are in the throes of another emotional jag. Not long ago there was an outpouring of books and articles in the magazines and newspapers on affluence . . . Affluence is now being overshadowed. We are portrayed as a poverty-ridden society and urged to undertake a large-scale program for increasing economic opportunity." The truth, as usual in controversial issues, lies somewhere between the reservations of the skeptics, and the claims of the all-out poverty war enthusiasts.

It is estimated that there are 40 to 50 federal programs having a fairly direct application to poverty. Some sources have estimated that in 1964 Americans earmarked $31 billion for federal antipoverty programs alone. When this is added to funds spent by states, counties, cities, and philanthropies, it is probable that Americans are spending as much to alleviate poverty as for any other single purpose, possibly including national defense. While this would seem to indicate a virtual state of economic disaster in the country, nothing could be further from the fact. In actuality, it primarily indicates the American trait of generosity—a generosity that will be found in people of all classes and circumstances. However, generosity alone merely breeds charity. It does not cure waste.

In a little noted book published by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, a task force of leading American citizens in all walks of life—business, the professions, education, government and the sciences—presents the results of an exhaustive study of problems relating to economic growth and opportunity in the United States. The book is entitled "The Concept of Poverty." Among other things, it stresses the fallacy of defining the "poor" as those who receive a money income under a certain absolute amount, such as $3,000 a year. It is critical of the guaranteed income ideas. It urges more concentration on programs to help people help themselves out of poverty. It calls for extensive research leading to a variety of programs and says, "In an economic sense, this approach may seem costly. But such an investment in human beings can in time pay off handsomely. It can lead to greater production, higher incomes, increased consumption, more taxpayers and fewer tax-consumers, less 'welfare' and more well-being." And finally, it stresses the danger of overburdened administrators tending to substitute numbers and statistics for the human element.

Yes, we have come a long way in the "war on poverty." And while the millennium has not arrived as yet, men of goodwill are bringing it ever closer.

Lieut. Wm. Bolinger in a letter to Mr. Dan Babbitt states that he has been in a hospital in England for two and a half months with pleurisy.

Snow removal was the important topic to come before the meeting of the County Road commission Monday afternoon. Besides the members of the commission there was a large representation of people owning property located along our rivers and other remote places off the county highways. The board members believe their present equipment would not stand up throughout the winter if snowplowing were not reduced in mileage. Two trucks that had been purchased over a year ago were "frozen" by the OPA just before they were delivered. It is mandatory that the county maintain and keep open for use all post and school bus routes and roads used in defense work. By cutting out about 40 miles of private drive-ways the board believed it could get through the winter. A motion was offered before the group in which it expressed the wishes of those present that the Commission continue to "service private highways as long as their equipment would enable them to. This was passed unanimously." This request was supported with the understanding that in case the equipment were not in condition for service next spring the public would have to endure bumpy roads if necessary.

Miss Martha Peterson of Maple Forest is spending this week with her sister, Mrs. Ester Peterson.

The Betty Mae Beauty Parlor has been purchased by Mrs. Bertha Dannenberg. Mrs. Dannenberg is a sister of Mrs. Minnie Miller Niles.

Mrs. Evelyn Manion and son Pat left Monday for Flint and Lansing to remain for several days on business.

Mrs. Leo Jorgenson and daughter Leone, Mrs. Carl Nielson and Mrs. Melvin Marshall were in Petoskey on business.

Matson who was stationed in North Africa for some time, returned to the United States and entered a hospital in Georgia from where he was recently released. His friends here were pleased to see him looking so well.

Mrs. Minnie Miller of Grayling and Mr. Victor Niles of West Branch were united in marriage at Saginaw, Saturday evening. Mrs. Miller resided in Grayling some three years, having operated the Betty Mae Beauty Parlor. During that time she has made many friends who regret her leaving here.

Letters From Camp: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schreiber, Grayling, Michigan. Dear Sis and family: I received your package and card a few days ago and was sure glad to hear from you. Boy it sure has been a long time since we have written but I guess its just one of those things. Your package was real nice and everything will come in handy. I'm getting along fine and feeling swell. I have plenty of everything over here except nice pretty girls. Your old man I suppose is working every day. You can tell him that I saw Nels Johnson the other day. He is a Cpl. and we are on the same island. There are quite a few boys here from Grayling, Kenneth Hoesli, Russell Peterson, George Denewitt, Nels Johnson, and Ernie Lozon used to be here but he has gone now. They all seem to like it but I guess we are all alike, there is no place like home. I get mail from dad and Ruth quite often and they say it has snowed quite a number of times already, so I suppose you will have another long winter. Tell your old man he better do some real hunting. Over here the people don't know what hunting wild game means, although there are hundreds of nice pheasants here there doesn't seem to be anyone hunting them. Maybe the law or something stops them. I heard that Emory is a single man again and maybe he will be in the army before long. If he does go in the service I hope they send him to the Hawaiian Islands, then we will get another chance to see one another. I understand that Walter is in the marines and he has to go to California for his training. If he does he can call himself lucky because it is a wonderful state, all of us like it very much. I'll sign off till next time. Tell the kids hello and I'll be seeing them one of these days. Your soldier brother, Bert Confer.

Local Woman's Cousin Named 'Outstanding'

Mrs. Dale Pettengill recently received a clipping from the Lansing State Journal telling about her cousin, Mrs. Nancy Krebs Drennan, having been named as one of the outstanding young women of America. The article states "Mrs. Drennan, wife of Major Harry E. Drennan, stationed in Japan, has been cited for her volunteer work with the Red Cross. Her name will be included in the 1966 publication of 'Outstanding Young Women in America.' The daughter of Mrs. Mable Beader of Clifton Ave., Mrs. Drennan made her home at Comfort St. before leaving Lansing and was graduated from Sexton High School. She started her Red Cross work in 1956 at Wheelis Air Base, Libya as a Gray Lady. Later her volunteer activities included nurse's aid training under the Red Cross program. Now working at the U.S. AF Hospital at Tachikawa Air Base Mrs. Drennan has served there as the hospital unit chairman and as the Red Cross vice chairman of volunteers. She was also on call duty with the Air Evac program of personnel wounded in Viet Nam and has been elected chairman of the Kanto Council in which she will coordinate Red Cross volunteer programs conducted in the 10 districts surrounding the Tokyo area. Mrs. Drennan was one of two nominees chosen from eight candidates. She was selected by an editorial board in Montgomery, Ala. She and Major Drennan are the parents of four children. The family expects to return to the United States in May 1968."

His brother Kenneth left with him to enlist in the Navy and is now taking his basic training at Great Lakes Training Center, Illinois. Their brother Leslie was home over Thanksgiving and the weekend from Michigan Tech at Houghton. He left Sunday night to resume his studies and was like many others caught in the snowstorm, staying overnight at McMillan.

Mrs. Fern Macaulay and Karen spent Thanksgiving in Bay City with the Francis-Bednarczyk family. The Bednarczyks were here at the Macaulay home the opening of deer season, the men doing some hunting. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Palmer of West Branch, brother and sister-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Palmer of Grayling, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at the home of their daughter, Corinne Haney and family at Owosso on Thanksgiving Day, November 24. All of their eight daughters and three sons were present for the occasion and all of their grandchildren. The couple received many nice gifts, but the biggest and best was a combined gift from their children, a trip to Nashville, Tenn., to attend the National Barn Dance program. Three of the Palmer family used to be heard on a Vassar radio program quite regularly, and all of the family are musicians. The trio's former sponsor has invited Mr. and Mrs. Palmer to stay at his property in Tennessee when they go to see the Barn Dance program, which will be sometime in the near future.

Among the lucky hunters to get bucks this season are Dewey Palmer, Junior Palmer and Frank Bokar of Wyandotte, who has hunted with the Palmer family and visited them for years, enjoying coffee breaks with Dewey at Smith's Corners which are pretty frequent. Friends know the size of the coffee pot and often drop in when they are hunting in the area too. Several of the group had been off and on tracking a deer that apparently had either a roll of the communications wire left by guard units in the woods or a piece of brush entangled on its horns. The animal leaves a spray of marks in the snow that seems to indicate something like the above. So far none have caught up with it.

Mr. and Mrs. Lary Gust and Paul spent the first part of last week visiting friends and relatives in Hart, Saginaw and Lansing. On December 4th Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gust and the Atkinson family were present at a party at his home.

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend church regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake; (2) For his children's sake; (3) For the sake of his community and nation; (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

AN EYE ON THE WORLD

The fascination of a globe... let the eye roam over the world map... notice the different countries and continents... try to imagine what life must be like in each of these places.

Yes, every spot on the globe has its particular need. Sometimes it is a need-felt in that one place alone. Yet, in a sense, every place is the same, for all countries are made up of people. And all people have the same basic needs.

One of these needs is faith—faith-in-a God who also has an eye on our world. Faith in a God who sustains us, and who gives meaning to time and eternity. Your own life has this need. You can answer that need by attending church, and discovering the strength and joy which come through regular worship.

Rustproof!

A Snow Job, corrosive road salts—these are the things that can literally eat away your car's body this winter. Why take a chance when you can prevent rust so quickly and inexpensively? New Leonard Rustproof Compound is a special blend of rust inhibitors, waxes, solvents and penetrants that protects against rust before it starts, keeps it from spreading if it's already begun. Sprayed on under pressure, it gets inside rocker panels, headlight housings, fender wells and other places ordinary undercoatings can't reach. One application coats and protects any car, old or new. Come in and see us today—and bring your car!

November 20, 1966
Dear Mom, Dad and Paula,

Well I guess the Good Lord sure is looking out for me. I probably shouldn't tell you this but it's all over now. Today we were carrying infantry troops on a combat assault. We started to land on top of a mountain. We hit the ground and the wind caused us to lift up about four feet in the air, then I think we hit the ground again which turned the ship to the right and we hit another ship which was just about two feet off the ground just ready to land. We lost our tail rotor and the ship turned all the way around and the main rotor blade crashed into the ground. Three infantry troops were hurt pretty bad. One had cuts over his eye. The transmission came down through the roof of the ship and the main rotor blades were broke all to heck. The parts just missed my co-pilot's head by inches. After the crash was over our ship was a total loss. The tail boom was twisted all to heck. I didn't have my movie camera with me so I didn't get any movies. They are going to haul it back to main base tomorrow so I will get some movies then. My co-pilot got some scratches on his face and my pilot and gunner didn't get a scratch. I got one on my fingers skinned up a little. We were all lucky to walk away from it. But the infantry troops, we were carrying two of them, they had to carry out on a Red Cross ship.

No one was killed, thank God, but my ship is a total loss. So if things go good I will get a new ship here. There's parts laying all over the ground and it tore the transmission right out of the mount.
